Pegazus 550 is an open cabin cruiser. It's width and freeboard height ensures a surprisingly great stability and safety during driving. This boat can exceed around 60 km/h even with a middle-sized 90hp engine and accelerates fast due to it's innovative hull construction. This boat shows its most potential when used in the moderate climate where even a sunny day can turn into a big rain. That's because of a well designed bimini under which even tall people can stand freely and drive the boat at full speed. When we remove the sides and rear windows the bimini serves as a sun protector. After the rain whole bimini can be folded and stored in a special container behind the rear lounge. In the rear lounge's back there's also a storage for 4 rubber fenders.

The cabin is designed for 2 adult people. Under the mattresses there are few storages. There are also wooden components to turn whole cabin space into a big bed. Below the small middle mattress there's a place for a chemical toilet.

The cabin is closeable by laminate sliding doors with a lock.

Steering console has a plenty of space for marine equipment and engine gauges. Both steersman's and passenger's seats are turnable and their's front part moves upwards giving support during standing behind a wheel.

Although Pegazus 550 is only 5,4 m long and it has a cabin we managed to create enough space in the cockpit area for 6 people. Under the rear lounge there is a big storage place which has a separate compartment for a foldable table. An interesting optional equipment is an additional bed which folds out of the rear lounge and creates a sunbed which can also serve as a sleeping place for 2 people.

Pegazus 550 is a great choice for those who plan to often transport a boat to different places. It's dimensions and weight are great for transporting on a typical single-axel boat trailer and the weight of this set will be low enough to tow it without any additional driving licenses.
